

February 16, 2026

To Whom It May Concern:

I am expressing my support for Emmanuelle (Ella) Stockfish's application to your New Graduate Program. Ella was my student in NUR55A Fundamentals of Nursing and Roy Adaptation Model (theory and practicum) during Summer of 2025. This above-named Practicum was conducted at the UCLA Ronald Reagan Neuro/Stroke/Head trauma unit.

During classroom time Ella demonstrated genuine interest in the course content, showed respect for faculty and peers, submitted all assignments on time, upheld academic integrity, maintained ethical standards, and demonstrated effective communication for course-related problems and concerns.

She would always come to classes prepared and actively participated in Q & A sessions, group discussions, case studies, and group presentations.

During clinicals Ella provided culturally sensitive care for patients with variety of neurological problems, including brain traumas, infections, and surgeries. Above mentioned patients were at risk for variety of medical, pharmaceutical, psychological, and mental challenges, and Ella was always perceptive to each of her patients' unique needs, anticipated possible complications, and prepared to address all of them timely and effectively. Unit nurses commended her gentle, compassionate, and positive attitude. She accepted my feedback and incorporated it to improve patient care. She was always on time for clinicals, adhered to dress code, demonstrated professional behavior, and submitted required paperwork timely and neatly.

I highly recommend Ms. Ella Stockfish for your New Graduate Program, and I am sure she will make a great addition to your team! Feel free to contact me for any additional information.

Joulia Skibinsky, MSN-Ed, RN
Assistant Professor

Mount Saint Mary's University
10 Chester Place, Los Angeles, CA 90007
323.627.1192
jskibinsky@msmu.edu
<https://msmu.edu>